Earlham Large Flowered Hybrid Montbretias

These are the magnificent new Montbretias which have attracted so much attention the last year or two at the Royal Horticultural Society's flower shows. They are generally much taller and more robust than the old style Montbretia, the flowers much larger, some measuring 3 to 4 inches in diameter. In severe climates spring planting is best and they can be given the same treatment as gladioli. Plant 3 to 4 inches deep in full sun. They need rich, light soil with plenty of moisture.

CECIL—Very tall with large flowers of buff yellow with apricot eye.

GOLDFINCH—Bright yellow with small maroon blotches in the center, outer petals heavily shaded brilliant cherry-scarlet.

HIS MAJESTY—Flowers measuring 4 inches across, very broad petalled; deep velvety scarlet shading down to gold, back of petals crimson shading down to gold.

LEMON QUEEN—Creamy yellow with pale center and deep orange buds.

Your Garden and the War . .

With the outbreak of war we were faced with the question how our bulb growing business was going to fit into the picture.

Then came word from the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture who had met with some 250 officers of garden clubs, horticultural associations and editors of garden and farm magazines.

Knowing that conditions are far different now than during World War I they wished to prevent the hysteria which had led to plowing up lawns and golf courses and subsequent wasting of seed and fertilizers.

They realized that ornamental gardening provides a means of maintaining physical and mental health; that it upholds morale in times of strain and worry.

Therefore, they recommend that Americans keep up or improve their own gardens and make further efforts to landscape playgrounds and public parks.

England, through all her trials has kept up her gardens. She has kept up her flower shows for which she is justly noted. She has kept up her morale.

Americans will do the same.

DOUBLE CAMELLIA TYPE BEGONIA

CRESTED TYPE BEGONIA

GIANT SINGLE TYPE BEGONIA

Tuberous Rooted Begonias

This lovely type of Begonia with its large and exquisite blooms is becoming more popular each year. It grows and blooms in shady places, under trees, in beds, in porch boxes, or tubs, in places where other flowers will not thrive. Our stock was secured from the Vetterle & Reinelt Hybridizing Gardens, whose Begonia exhibits received the Gold Medal at the Golden Gate Exposition.

GIANT SINGLE TYPE—The flowers of this type are enormous, sometimes reaching a size of from 8 to 12 inches in diameter. It is fine for use in tubs or for bedding.

SINGLE FRILLED TYPE (CRISPA)—The large flowers are beautifully ruffled and frilled.

CRESTED TYPE (CRISTATA)—A beautiful show type, the plants being covered with masses of flowers having a crested formation on each petal.

The above types come in white, pink, rose, yellow, salmon, orange, scarlet and dark red.

DOUBLE CAMELLIA TYPE—This is the most popular double type, having very large double flowers resembling a camellia or rose. Comes in the above eight colors, also American Beauty and Blush.

DOUBLE PICOTEE—Flowers slightly smaller than the Camellia Type but of the same beautiful form; two-tone color combinations with the contrasting color at the edge of the petals. Colors: Pink, rose, salmon, and apricot.

DOUBLE ROSEBUD—Exquisite flowers resembling perfect rosebuds, with beautiful two-tone, pastel-shade coloring. Colors: Blush, rose and salmon.

CARNATION TYPE—Full double flower with each petal fringed like a carnation. Mixed colors.

HANGING BASKET TYPE—The most attractive of the Tuberous Begonias; grown in hanging baskets, pots or tubs, they are very decorative, being covered with great masses of blooms. Mixed colors.

Large size tubers of all above varieties 25c each; $2.50 per dozen.

Calla Lilies

WHITE CALLA (Zantedeschia Aethiopica)—Large white flowers on 3 to 5-foot stems. Luxuriant dark green foliage. In a warm climate they may be left in the ground for a number of years; in colder sections they may be lifted in the fall and stored until spring or flowered in the house. Each 25c.

Send for our Fall Bulb Catalog

In August we will mail our illustrated catalog of Daffodils, Tulips, Iris, Lilies and other spring flowering bulbs. The mild climate and long growing season of the Pacific Northwest where our Gardens are located, produce the very best bulbs that can be grown anywhere. Our bulbs are all hand dug and graded. Each order receives our personal attention. If you wish a copy of our fall catalog, please make a note on your spring order or drop us a card with your name and address and we will be glad to send you a copy.

WILSON'S IMPROVED

Tigridias

(Mexican Tiger Flower)

The gorgeous Tigridia is a tropical flower which can be grown in any section of the United States. It has three richly colored, silken petals surrounding a deep cup usually spotted maroon or blood red. Each bulb develops several clusters of long green buds which open into blossoms 5 to 6 inches in diameter. The bulbs may be planted in any good garden soil containing plenty of humus and will blossom from midsummer until frost.
